Virginia Attorneys and Lawyer Referral

These are questions about attorneys and lawyer referral that are frequently asked by consumers.

How do I choose an attorney?

The Virginia State Bar (VSB) provides services to help you find an attorney. The Virginia Lawyer Referral Service, operated by the VSB, can connect you with a lawyer who is prepared to work with your type of problem.

Where can I get a referral?

The Virginia State Bar operates a referral service Virginia Lawyer Referral Service which can be reached at (804) 775-0808 or 1-800-552-7977. If you think you have a problem which may require the services of a lawyer, call the Virginia Lawyer Referral Service. Your call will be answered by a referral specialist who will request your name and a brief description of your problem. Based on this information, you will be provided with the name and telephone number of a lawyer in your community who has indicated a particular interest in handling your type of problem. The lawyer will be licensed and a member in good standing with the Virginia State Bar. It will then be your responsibility to call the lawyer to schedule an appointment. If it appears that you do not need a lawyer, you will be directed to an agency that may be able to help. Any information that you provide will be strictly confidential.

If you are referred to a lawyer, you will be entitled to consult with him or her for up to one half hour for a fee of $35. You should be prepared to pay the lawyer at the time of your appointment. This initial consultation may answer your questions and enable you to solve your problem. If your problem requires additional time and work, you will be responsible for any additional legal fees. The lawyer you consult will be glad to discuss his or her fees and the cost of services beyond the initial half-hour consultation. However, there is no obligation for either you or the lawyer to go beyond the one half-hour consultation. The hours of operation are Monday through Friday, from 8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Closed on state holidays.
