Piedmont Housing Alliance provides fair housing education, outreach, advocacy and support services. The goal is to raise awareness and promote compliance with fair housing laws that protect from discrimination in the rental, sale, and financing of housing based on race, color, religion, national origin, gender, disability, children in the household, or age.

The Fair Housing Program gives training seminars on fair housing rights and responsibilities, distributes fair housing educational materials, and handles complaints of housing discrimination and questions about fair housing compliance. One of PHA's fair housing initiatives is to promote accessibility, visitability, and universal design in housing.
