Bon Secours Richmond Health System needs volunteers to help with literacy programs. Reach Out and Read (ROR) - a literacy promotion and standard part of pediatric primary care to help children grow up with books and a love of reading. Volunteers in the waiting room read aloud to children or at Reach Out and Read clinic. At each check up until 5 years, the child receives a new book to take home.

Other ways to help the program: Donate gently used children books. Please either drop them off or mail them to:
