GRTC offers a Travel Training Service that can provide individuals, 15 years of age and older, an opportunity to learn skills to enable them to follow a GRTC bus route. The training teaches individuals how to ride public transportation safely and independently. Instructors create travel plans to show the person how to use fixed-route transportation. The training is free.

Training services include basic bus orientation, mobility device instructions, and one on one training for specific trip destinations or for individuals with disabilities or senior citizens.
