Event Description

Presentation by the Piedmont Master Gardeners - Online, Monday, May 17, 3:00–4:00 pm, Pollinator Gardening with Three Flower Pots - Growing native plants is one of the best ways to promote biodiversity and create a healthy habitat for wildlife, including pollinators. Even if you live in an apartment or townhouse that lacks garden space, you can still support pollinators by growing native plants on a patio or balcony. Learn how you can create a beautiful garden that will attract butterflies, hummingbirds, and other vital pollinators with as few as three flowerpots. Free and open to all. Pre-register. If you have questions, please call The Center at (434) 974-7756
